Dear Folks,

Today marks the Fourth Sunday of Lent. It is also the day we honor for the Solemnity of St. Joseph. Now, begs the question, "How does St. Joseph get two feast days and St. Patrick only gets one? And why do the Irish wear green on the latter day and Italians wear red on the Feast of St. Joseph?"

Simply, green symbolized the "Emerald Isle." The first day for St. Joseph was initiated in Sicily during a horrible draught in the 16th century. The appeal to St. Joseph went out far and wide and when the rains came the people were spared a great famine thus holding great dinners in honor of St. Joseph. The second day, May 1st, was established the Communist May Day... when every card carrying "Italian" Bolshevik wore "Red" for the Communist flag. The Church through St. Joseph, "The worker," into the fray to steal a little thunder from the... "Reds." Excuse the pun. Sorry, not sure of the quantity of Italian Communists at the time but the numbers would certainly grow in the decades to follow.

Speaking of Bolshevik's, symbolically in this case. Some unsavory character is once again sending out e-mails, under my name, asking for you folks to send me the numbers off "Gift Cards, " to help me get out jail as I am visiting Morocco this week. Or some exotic place like that. Once again, all the parishioners of pastors of the Washington Archdiocese and Arlington Diocese are being target for such a sham/spam. Please note, my e-mail address is: frgould@gmail.com. Those appealing for gift cards my use my name but completely different E-Mail addresses. Please be care and don't let anyone hurt you or the other good people of the parish.

Allow another thought of concern. During the ongoing scandals of clerical abuse there are rising calls, from around the country, to coerce priests to break the "Seal of Confession" in cases involving moral improprieties. That will never happen. Never. In breaking the seal a priest will attain an automatic excommunication and removal from the Catholic priesthood. canonlawmadeeasy.com/2008/12/04/can-a-priest-ever-reveal-what-is-said-in-confession/

God bless one and all as we enter the fourth week of Lent. Let us pray for one another.

Collegiate answer: The slave to become the first American priest was: Fr. Augustus Tolton, Chicago.

Collegiate Question: Today, March 14, 2023, is "Pi" Day. No, little Virginia, not another Italian Day for Pizza. It is a mathematical formula that dates to ancient construction projects, now savored by world tourists. What is the meaning of the day and what is the formula? Good hunting.

Can a married man become a priest?

In the Roman Catholic Church, canon law requires priests to be celibate. An exception is made for well qualified former Protestant ministers who are married. A sponsoring bishop applies to Rome, requesting permission for a candidate to begin priestly formation. Once permission has been granted, the candidate completes a prescribed formation plan, typically 2-3 years of study. Then Pope may grant a dispensation from celibacy after which the sponsoring bishop can ordain the candidate to the priesthood. Pope Pius XII allowed the first such dispensations in 1951.

LENTEN MESSAGE Continuing Supreme Chaplain of the Knights of Columbus Archbishop William E. Lori's "Supreme Chaplain's Column" in the January/February edition of the (Knights of Columbus) Columbia Magazine, where he wrote about "the Order's principles to help us to better understand and practice prayer, fasting, and almsgiving." "A final word focused on the principle of fraternity: As Knights, we value the brotherhood and solidarity that we and our families share. We also know that sustaining that spirit of solidarity sometimes requires patience and forbearance. Sometimes, we need to abstain from a hasty word or an angry remark. Often, we need to make room in our hearts for a brother Knight with whom we disagree. In a word, we need to "fast" from that which undermines our fraternity. During Lent, denying ourselves food and drink can also help us to make more room in our hearts for one another, for those in need, and ultimately for the Savior, in whose pierced heart is the fullness of redemption.

Lent the McGivney way boils down to this: Charity corresponds to almsgiving; unity to prayer; fraternity to fasting. Guided by the principles that our Founder left us, may we experience our best Lent ever."
